While the world is reacting to the demand for racial equality to combat systemic racism, STEM Advantage has always been about advancing equity through education. We have a proven track record of supporting women and underserved communities to launch STEM careers. From a gender perspective, the makeup of our Scholars is half women and from an ethnicity perspective two-thirds are students of color.

Our May graduates entered an unprecedented job market. If you have openings for talented graduates, please contact Lee Ann at leeann@stemadvantage.org

One of our talented graduates...

Abdul-Haqq graduated in May with a B.S. in Applied Mathematics & Statistics from Cal Poly Pomona.

"I am ready to change the narrative of what African-American men are capable of and to be an example for the younger generation. I would love to have a career in Data Science or Cryptography."

Here's an example of how you can make a difference...

STEM Advantage alumna Jessica graduated with a B.S. in Computer Science from Cal State LA. Patria Cabral is a Product Management Director at Ria and STEM Advantage mentor.

When Patria had an opening on her team, she reached out to STEM Advantage. The rest, as they say, is history. Today, Jessica is a product manager on Patria's team.

In this video The World We Share: Meet Patria & Jessica, two Latina Women in Tech, they share their stories.

STEM Advantage is a proven pipeline for diverse STEM talent. 100% of your tax-deductible gift goes directly to fund scholarships to help low-income students graduate with less debt.
